Foreword

IN issuing this, the first volume of BUBBLES, we have striven to weave into it something of the rainbow hues which are painted upon each memory of our two years here by the friends, the scenes, the activities and incidents which have made up life on our campus; and the happiness, the plans, the dreams which we as students have known, that the bubbles of memory, rising from the springs of our experiences here, may be kept alive, to grow to ultimate and noble reality.

Dedication

To

MRS. BESSIE (J. D.) HUGGINS

In appreciation for the spirit of whole-hearted co-operation which she has always shown toward Boiling Springs College; for her warm friendship and love; for the unselfish service she has so loyally rendered it; and for her life as a visible embodiment of the ideals upon which our College was founded, we dedicate this first volume of BUBBLES.

Resume 1934 Football Season

The Bulldogs opened the '33 season by eking out a 6-0 victory over the Cliffside high school. This game failed to give fans any idea as to the team's strength due to the absence of several of the regulars. Wilson scored the touchdown.

Their next game was against Rutherford College in Shelby. Again handicapped by injuries the team was able to do no better than a 6-6 tie. Mauney dragged one out of the air for the marker.

Displaying a world of power the Bulldogs pulled a last half rally and defeated Campbell on the Campbell field by an 18-13 margin. Hendricks, Mauney and Brown did the tallying.

With a weakened forward line the Bulldogs won over P. J. C. in Shelby by the close score of 6-0. Brown scored on a pass.

With the team once more in condition the Bulldogs severely trounced the Wingate eleven 32-6 before a large home crowd. Wilson scored two touchdowns with Mauney, Brown, and Connor adding one each. Ben Moore stood out at center.

Due to outstanding line work with Putnam and Childers leading the Bulldogs nosed out a stubborn Weaver College team in a bitter contest at Asheville to take their fourth straight. Connor went over for the touchdown.

Showing strength in every department the Bulldogs decisively overran the Belmont Abbey boys to the count of 31-0. The scoring was furnished by Mauney, Wilson, Brown, Connor and Epps. The tackle play of Putnam and Childers featured the line work.

Producing a pass defense that failed to be penetrated during the entire game, the Bulldogs overthrew a challenging Lees-McRae outfit by a 14-0 score. The passing of Raper aided the Bulldogs. The scoring was done by Connor and Mauney.

Risking an undefeated record against a heavier opponent the Bulldogs took the field against Oak Ridge and emerged with a 25-14 decision. This Thanksgiving affray marked the first time a Boiling Springs club had ever vanquished a Cadet team. The scoring was furnished by Brown, Putnam, Connor and Hendricks. This ended a nine-game schedule and crowned the Bulldogs State Champions.

HOW LONG SHOULD A WIFE LAST?

In Colonial Days they lasted one-third as long as husbands lasted. Household drudgery killed them off. In modern homes electricity eliminates drudgery.

Margaret Autrey: Why is it that nobody can ever tell where all the pins go?

Lewis Lynch: It's hard to tell because they are pointed in one direction and headed in the other.

Hope Finch: I have broken my glasses doctor, will I have to be examined all over again?

Optician: No, only your eyes.

Miss Ables (to a tramp at the door): No, I ain't got nuthin' for you.

Tramp: Well, you might refuse
me grammatically at any rate.

Coach: Women are a riddle aren't they?

Doc Williams: That's right,
they keep us constantly guessing,
and still we hate to give them up.

Clarene Peeler (on honeymoon with Mary Russell, taking a trip on ocean liner): Darling, do you feel sick?

Mary Russell: I'm not exactly sick—but I don't dare yawn.

Max Putnam: What a nifty overcoat, where did you get it?

Jim Wilson: I picked it up at Grant's.

Max Putnam: I don't know the place; is it a clothing store or restaurant?

George: You must think I'm as big a fool as I look.

Bernice: I think that if you aren't you have a great deal to be thankful for.
